107 Lives Lost When Roof of Washington Theatre Falls In

OVERWEIGHTED WITH SNOW, ROOF COLLAPSES WITHOUT WARNING ON THE AUDIENCE

Avalanche of Broken Plaster, Bricks, Snow, Splintered Wood and Twisted Steel Beams Catapulted Upon Spectators of Film Comedy

Injured List Stands At 134

Inquiry into Disaster will be Started as Soon as Rescuers have Made Certain that all the Bodies have Been Removed.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Jan. 29.—Official police records at midnight tonight placed the known dead in the Knickerbocker theatre disaster at 107. Elimination of duplicated names brought the final total down from the unofficial peak of 112 at which the toll of the catastrophe was earlier placed. The list of injured stood at 134, with 14 "seriously injured."

The official list, according to the authorities contained the names of all those whose bodies had been recovered up to midnight from the ruins left when the roof of the theatre, overweighted with snow, collapsed on the audience which had braved the Saturday night storm to witness the comedy featured on the evening program.

The workers had practically concluded their search of the wreckage at midnight, the only portion of what had been the orchestra remaining to be searched being a far corner in which it was not expected additional bodies would be found.

An avalanche of broken plaster, bricks, snow splintered wood and twisted steel beams catapulating upon the audience while the orchestra played and a comedy film ground out is the description of the Knickerbocker theatre disaster given by Representative John H. Smithwick of Pensacola, Fla. He was in the balcony of the theatre when the roof collapsed and, although injured, escaped.

Great Fissure in Ceiling.

"The orchestra was playing and a comic film was running," said Mr. Smithwick, lying in his bed, bandaged and with his face and hands covered with cuts. "Suddenly there was a sharp crack. I looked up and saw a great fissure running across the ceiling. It was right over my head. I instantly realized what was happening. The plaster began to fall, dropping down in chunks all over the theatre, it seemed to me. While I was looking up, a great piece right over my head started to fall. I ducked, crouching, involuntarily I suppose, down between the seats. The piece struck the seat where I had been sitting. Its force was broken, but it pinned me down where I was crouching.

The noise was awful. It was a great, tremendous roar.

In the midst of the roaring were shrieks and cries of women and children and a few shouts of men. There were cries for help, groans and, worst of all, the moans of those in terrible pain. It was awful. I see it all the time, those poor children and men and women crying and groaning there.

"There were only a few of us in the balcony, fortunately. The balcony gave way and crashed, soon after the ceiling began to fall on those on the lower floor.

I guess there was a lapse of maybe twenty seconds, hardly more, before the balcony fell. It spun and twisted as its supports gave [illegible] and swung down sideways on [illegible] below.

"I don't know how I got out from there. I was crouching under that mass of plaster that had fallen on me. I really believe it weighed all of 500 pounds and I think I [illegible] with my shoulders. Anyway I crawled out between the seats to where I saw a small hole in the plaster. I forced myself up through that hole, wiggling and shoving. Then I crawled out over the seats and debris, over the tangled debris to the doors on the 18th street side. I don't know what became of the others in the balcony after we were showered with plaster."

Church a Receiving Station.

At the first word of the disaster a Christian Science church a few hundred yards away was thrown open to the victims and the hundreds of those who came to search for their [illegible] [illegible].

It was merely a first aid station for those taken crushed, but alive, from the wreckage. They were carried on stretchers over the slippery pavement with lines of soldiers keeping the crowds in check. Doctors and nurses, and women eager to bring their sympathy and cheer to the suffering of rescued waited in the church.

But the dead lay long in the [illegible] rows in which they were stretched across the floor, lay until a tearful relative or friend, a husband or wife, or father or a mother, recognized the crushed form at last. Up and down these aisles of the dead walked those whose fears had drawn them there because of someone missing from the family circle.

Eleven times death struck down husband and wife, side by side. But, with many others, it was only the wife or husband who perished and the survivor must make the terrible pilgrimage of recognition in the grim chamber of the dead.

The times when children were taken were sparingly few. Usually the big theatre has been in its earlier hours of a Saturday night the gathering place of a host of youngsters come with their parents for the week's amusement. But the storm that wrecked the Knickerbocker theatre kept most of the little folk at home.

Of the dead, as had been identified at dark tonight. The large majority of the victims both killed and injured were residents of this city, although many came recently from other places. Exploration of the ruins continued after dark, but those in charge believed few additional bodies would be found. Without regard to their own risk, soldiers, marines, sailors, police, firemen and citizens volunteers had fought their way beneath the wreckage over practically the whole floor space of the auditorium.

Audience Fortunately Was Small.

The exact number in the theatre when the steel and concrete roof buckled and fell under its three-foot load of snow probably never will be known. The stories of perhaps a hundred who got out uninjured have been reported. These account for a few more than 300 in the audience that was roaring in laughter at a film comedy when the roof fell on them like a blanket, carrying down the front of the wide balcony in its crash.

Normally the theatre has had every seat filled at that hour and nearly 2,000 persons was its capacity. The same unprecedented snowfall which brought death to the venturesome few kept the many at home. Street car traffic had been abandoned and streets and sidewalks were all but impassible with drifts.

There has been no time as yet for official inquiry as to the cause of the disaster. The ruins themselves disclosed, however, that the entire mass of steel-held concrete that formed the roof had come down. The crash swept the supports out from under the balcony, apparently, and this hinged down at an angle of 45 degrees, adding to the tangled mass of wreckage on the floor below.

The building stands in an acute-angled corner at 18th street and Columbia road N. W., the heart of the most favored residential section of the city. The narrow niche of stage on which the screen was hung was tucked in to the corner angle while to the left from the stage, the line of the auditorium wall runs in a straight line for some 200 feet down 18th street. To the right the wall follows the slow curve of Columbia road for about the same distance and at the far end, overlooking the stage front, the back wall completes the auditorium proper, also about 200 feet in length.

This whole space stood roofless to the sky a moment after the first sound of the breaking roof gave warning above the music of the orchestra. There is only one survivor thus far who has told of having heard that warning and seen the powdery handfull of snow sift down over the head of the orchestra leader in time to make his escape. From his seat well forward on the main floor, he raced for the doors at the back. A great blast of air, expelled as the roof came down, hurled him out through the doorway to safety.

Most of the bodies were recovered from the floor of the pit beneath the wreckage of the balcony or from the front of the balcony itself. Following the rule of motion picture audiences, and with an almost empty house to pick from, those on the main floor had grouped themselves in the seats just below the front of the balcony. The front and back rows were almost empty.

Storm Adds to Difficulties.

Firemen fought their way through heaping snow drifts in answer to a general alarm. Police patrols filled with men churned and skidded through the white muck, and marines from the barracks clear across the city came at double time, panting through the heavy going. At Fort Meyer, across the river, the cavalry was turned out and started in truckloads to the rescue only to find roads blocked with snow. The men shoveled their way frantically but finally four mule teams from the fort and from the engineer barracks were called on for assistance.

At the scene of the disaster there was wild confusion for a time. Those who first made their way to the auditorium doors saw before them a dim, mysterious heap of wreckage, faintly lighted by a string of colored electric lights on the stage that still stood intact, and by the reflected glow from the leadened skies above the void where the roof had been. Minute by minute the crowds about the door thickened. The crash of the falling roof had drawn many, some of whom had relatives in the mass of ruins and melting snow inside. The clang of fire apparatus brought other hundreds and until the marines arrived, the police were powerless to fight off the crowd.

Firemen plunged into the wreckage with lanterns. Men with electric torches came from all sides to aid.

With infinite care, the rescuers began work. Every beam they touched might let another mass of concrete down if it was moved too swiftly. There were some groans in the darkness below and no one knew how many men, women and children had been crushed or trapped there. The huge slabs of concrete from the roof, torn from their steel supporting girders, stood in crazy attitudes. A touch might send them toppling.

But against every difficulty the soldiers and sailors and firemen and police and citizens toiled desperately, and a slow stream of dead and injured was brought out through the doorways. Nearly every house and store in the vicinity became a rescue station. Housewives made up pots of coffee for rescuers and rescued as the night wore on.

92 Victims Are Identified.

On the 18th street front, a row of parked automobiles stood waiting for owners killed or hurt in the crash inside.

Ninety-two of the victims had been identified when the force of volunteer workers, 24 hours after the disaster, approached the end of their long search of the debris. Nine additional bodies of those who had succumbed to injuries after rescue, lay in city hospitals.

At least a number equal to the killed sustained injuries, in many cases such as that the victims, if they recover, will be maimed for life. The list of the injured totalled 134 tonight and of these 14 were recorded as having sustained serious hurts.

Caught beneath the falling beams which had been designed to act as traverse supports for the roof, scores were taken to hospitals suffering with broken limbs or severe internal injuries. Many were given immediate medical attention at improvised stations hastily erected near the scene of the disaster.

STRIKE OF BAKERS NOW THREATENS METROPOLIS

New York, Jan. 29.—Likelihood of a general strike of bakers in the metropolitan and Northern New New Jersey districts developed today when 5,000 bakers here and in Jersey City voted to reject the proposal of employers to reduce wages $9 a week.

WASHINGTON MAN GIVES LIFE TO SAVE OTHERS

Washington, Jan. 29.—Many brave deeds were reported today by rescuers working in the Knickerbocker theatre wreckage, but they said Albert G. Buehler of Washington was the outstanding hero, giving his own life that others might live. He could have been taken from the debris fully an hour before he was, but he directed the rescuers to aid others whom he declared more seriously hurt than he. He died soon after he was taken from the building.

Lieutenant V. M. Parsons of the Marine corps, who assisted in directing the rescue work, gave graphic descriptions of many individual rescues.

"We were digging in the ruins," he said, "when we saw a tuft of red hair protruding. We uncovered a small boy, probably nine years old, who told us his little sister was beneath the pile of debris also. The girl was rescued and neither she nor the boy was seriously hurt, through some miracle, but their mother, nearby, was dead.

"Dr. Gearhart, a dentist, was found pinned beneath an I-beam. He told us as we endeavored to extricate him that he had been conscious all night in that position. A woman beside him was dead.

"One fellow with both legs horribly broken asked for cigarettes as he was carried out on a stretcher. He joked with the rescuers about his mangled limbs, remarking that he had about six legs now. He was certainly full of grit.

"A group of two women and a man whom we were digging out also displayed remarkable nerve, talking with the men and directing the rescue."

PROPOSES RELIEF FROM INCOME TAX

Donohue Bill Would Increase Exemption to $5,000 for Married, $3,000 for Single Persons

Albany, Jan. 29.—Minority Leader Charles D. Donohue of the assembly announced tonight that he would introduce in the legislature tomorrow night a personal income tax exemption bill, and that later in the session he might offer measure designed to repeal the income tax law outright. A similar measure has been introduced in the senate by Minority Leader James J. Walker.

The bill to be introduced tomorrow night proposes to increase the exemption from the income tax to a maximum of $5,000 for a married person, $3,000 for a single person, and $500 for dependents.

In a statement explaining the measure, Mr. Donohue attacked Governor Miller's economic program, saying that it had not reduced taxation "by so much as a penny."

Approximately 300,000 persons in all would be relieved from income tax payments if the bill became a law, Mr. Donohue said. Approximately 120,000 women, most of them wage earners, he added, are on the state income tax rolls, and the passage of his measure and its signature by the governor would relieve most of them of the payment of income taxes.

POLICE LIEUTENANT SLAIN.

West Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 29.—Police Lieutenant Charles Harms died in a hospital tonight from bullet wounds received when fired upon by bandits who held up a messenger of the North Hudson National bank Saturday afternoon and escaped with a bag containing $21,000.

U. S. Returned Railroads in Bad Order, Say Executives

New York, Jan. 29.—Charging that the "railroads have a just complaint against the director general," the Association of Railway Executives issued a statement today challenging in part a statement defending the government administration of the roads, made on January 23 by former Director General Walker D. Hines before the senate committee on interstate commerce.

The chief cause of complaint against the former director general, according to the statement, is that he refused "to recognize at least the moral obligation to maintain, so far as possible, the proper relationship between railroad revenues and railroad expenses."

The statement then sets forth that 17.5 per cent of the locomotives of the roads were in bad order when taken over by the government but that 25.6 were in poor condition when they were returned. The road officials further claim that the cross-tie renewals were 25,000,000 ties below par and that the government fell short 1,816,100 cubic yards in ballast used and 440,220 tons in rail renewals. As to the freight car situation, the report reads:

"At the beginning of federal control there were in use about 2,253,000 freight cars, of which 5.7 per cent, or 128,780 cars, were reported in bad order. At the end of federal control there were 2,307,000 cars of which 6.7 per cent, or 154,727 cars, were in bad order."

SAYS POPE WILL BE AN ITALIAN

Providence Has Ruled Thus For Past Five Centuries, Cardinal Mercier Declares

CONCLAVE GATHERS

Expected to Open Sessions on Thursday; Every Country Now Represented Except America

(By The Associated Press)

Rome, Jan. 29.—The pope is certain to be an Italian, according to a statement made today by Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, to The Associated Press.

"There is no need to indulge in vain conjecture or to count the votes in advance," said the cardinal, "but one must wait the decrees of Providence, and Providence for the past five centuries has ruled that the supreme pontiff should be an Italian."

The distinguished Belgian prelate did not concur in the opinion that has been freely expressed in Vatican circles, that "never has a foreign cardinal had such a chance of being elected pope."

It was suggested that the last foreign cardinal to the supreme pontificate was the archbishop of Liege.

"Undoubtedly you have heard, Your Eminence, that the name of another Belgian cardinal is being prominently mentioned for the coming conclave," it was added.

"Oh, you must not think of that," replied Cardinal Mercier. "You must not believe it. It is preposterous. I never thought of that before. Providence will decide."

"Forgive your enemies," said the cardinal in response to a query whether he favored closer relations between the Vatican and Quirinal, according to the policy of Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, or of the irreconcilables on the side of Cardinal Merry Del Val.

Three More Masses.

Only certain religious rites prescribed by canonical law, in which the cardinals will be participants, remain before the Sacred College is locked within the Vatican walls to choose the successor of Pope Benedict XV. The apartments for the occupancy of the cardinals are now in readiness.

There will be three more requiem masses, in which four or five cardinals will take part, and after that the conclave will begin.

On Monday mass will be sung in the Sistine chapel by Cardinal De Lai, while Cardinals Granito, Pompili and Cagliero will assist. In the ceremony connected with absolution at the tomb on Tuesday Cardinal Vico will be the celebrant, and Cardinals [illegible] Nava, Merry del Val, [illegible] and Maffi will act as assistants. In the absolution ceremony on Wednesday, the celebrant will be Cardinal Granito, and the assistants Cardinals Gasparri, Mercier, Lualdi and Lucon.

According to the present arrangements the conclave will open on Thursday, Feb. 2 when Cardinal Vannutelli, Dean of the Sacred College, will celebrate mass in the Pauline Chapel. All the doors of the Vatican will be bolted and the palace will be shut off from the outside world.

Drs. Battistini and Cherubini, who attended the late Pope, remain within the Vatican. The monks and the whole Vatican staff were notified today that their services would be no longer needed until the end of the conclave, except for a very limited number of employes retained for indispensable service. These will be sworn to secrecy and silence as the conclave opens.

With the arrival in Rome today of Cardinals Mercier, Kakowski, Dalbor and Czernoch, Archbishops, respectively, of Brussels, Warsaw, Posen and Budapest, every nationality which was expected to have delegates at the conclave is now represented in Rome with the exception of America.

Cardinal O'Connell of Boston and Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia are now the only missing prelates regarding whose movements the Vatican authorities are so far uncertain.

(Cardinal O'Connell sailed from New York on last Tuesday and Cardinal Dougherty sailed yesterday.)

Expeditious Conclave Predicted.

The 261st pontiff of the Roman church will be elected by Saturday night, according to the consensus of opinion expressed by the prelates arriving here with the cardinals attached to the conclave. They expect that decision will be reached on the third or fourth ballot. The conclave opens on Thursday and from present indications the work of electing a new pope will be carried on expeditiously.

"I do not anticipate a sharply-drawn contest, which some predict," said a prominent ecclesiastic today. "Although there are naturally divergent views among the cardinals these differences are not irreconcilable, and I am confident that the Sacred College will be able to agree upon the successor of Benedict in a relatively short time."

American and English church dignitaries consider it a certainty that an Italian will be chosen. They believe that the best chances lie with Cardinals Maffi, Ratti, [illegible] and LaFontaine.

A prominent English prelate, who asked that his name be withheld, declared it would be a great mistake to elect a foreign cardinal, as that would lead to dissatisfaction among countries like the United States, Great Britain and [illegible].

MANY VETERAN AID BILLS AWAIT ACTION

Legion Committee Meets Tomorrow to Formulate Legislative Program It Will Urge Enacted

Albany, Jan. 29.—Various proposals designed to reward World War veterans through a cash bonus, increased exemption from the state income tax law, and retirement on half pay pensions of former service men in civil service are pending in the legislature.

The executive committee of the state department of the American Legion which will meet here next Tuesday, will go over much of the suggested legislation, and at the same time, formulate a legislative program, which it will ask to have enacted.

Among the measures before the legislature are bills by Minority Leader Charles D. Donohue of the Assembly, and Assemblyman Ezra A. Barnes, Republican, of Oswego, designed to provide for a constitutional amendment to issue bonds for $45,000,000 to pay the bonuses.

Another measure, seeking to provide for a bonus and circumvent the decision of the Court of Appeals, which ruled the giving away of the state's credit was unconstitutinal, has been introduced by Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, Democrat, of New York. This measure seeks to create a reserve militia of all persons, who volunteered, enlisted or served fom New Yok state in the military or naval service of the United States during the war. Each member of this militia, under terms of the bill, would be paid $10 a month for each month of service during the war. The measure carries a provision for a referendum next fall on a bond issue of $40,000,000 to pay the bonuses.

Still another bill, introduced by Assemblyman Arthur E. Brundage, Republican, of Orange, proposes to raise $30,000,000 by direct tax of two mills on each dollar of real property, spread over a period of two years. The money thus raised would be given to World War veterans as additional compensation. In no case would the additional compensation be more than $200.

To give disabled veterans a pension equal to one half their annual salary at their army or navy rank, for a period of twenty years, is the object of a bill introduced by Assemblyman Edmund H. Alexander, Republican, of Kings.

Amendment to the civil service law to provide that veterans of recent wars, who are in the service of the state, city, or county governments may be retired at half pay after twenty years service and on reaching the age 60 years is sought in a bill introduced by Assemblyman Charles M. Harrington, Republican, of Clinton.

Assemblyman Michael E. Reiburn, Democrat, of New York, is the sponsor of a bill intended to provide increased exemptions from the personal income tax law. Under provisions of the measure, single men who saw service in the world war would not be subject to taxation on incomes up to $2,500 and married men would receive exemptions up to $4,000.

STATE INSURANCE RATE SUPERVISION ADVOCATED

New York, Jan. 29.—State supervision of insurance rates, with the right to appeal to the courts from a ruling of the state superintendent of insurance, was suggested in a statement today by Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the Lockwood legislative committee, outlining legislation he believed necessary to meet existing building conditions.

He also advocated legislation that would compel insurance companies not only to dispose of "gilt edge" stocks, but to invest a reasonable proportion of their assets in bonded mortgages on real estate.

SPONSORS LEGISLATION TO PUNISH NEGLIGENT DRIVERS

Albany, Jan. 29.—Legislation designed to make a negligent operator of a motor vehicle which injures a person guilty of assault, third degree and punishable by imprisonment for not less than one month nor more than one year is being sponsored by Senator Holland S. Duell, Republican, of Westchester. Under terms of the bill, a negligent operator causing death of another person would be guilty of manslaughter second degree and punishable by imprisonment for not less than one month or more than five years.

MANY INJURED IN CALCUTTA.

Calcutta, Jan. 29.—Five hundred persons were arrested today after the police and gurkhas armed with rifles had charged through a barrage of brickbats, stones and other missiles in order to disperse a large public meeting held by members of the non-cooperative society. Many persons on both sides were injured.

FAMOUS BRITISH EXPLORER DEAD

Sir Ernest Shackleton Breathed His Last Aboard Ship Invading Antarctic Regions

COMPANIONS GO ON

Body Transferred to Norwegian Steamer Which Brings It to Montevideo, Uruguay

(By The Associated Press.)

Montevideo, Uruguay, Jan. 29.—Sir Ernest Shackleton, the British explorer, died January 5, on board the steamship Quest, on which he was making another expedition into the Antartic regions.

Death was due to angina pectoris.

The body was brought to Montevideo on board a Norwegian steamer and will be taken by another steamer to Europe.

Prof. Gruvel and the other members of the explorer's party will continue the expedition.

Sir Ernest died on board the Quest, which was anchored off South Georgia island.

The previous night he had been slightly indisposed, but no uneasiness was felt for him. His medicinal needs were attended to by Captain Hussey.

At 3:30 o'clock on the morning of January 5, Sir Ernest began to sink rapidly and despite all efforts by his attendants he died within three minutes.

Governmental and military honors were paid the explorer. The government will retain custody of the body until it is embarked for England, which probably will be on board the steamer Andes, February 11.

The startling news of Shackleton's death spread rapidly this morning, though for a time it was impossible to obtain details owing to the reserve of those accompanying the body of the famous explorer. The desire first to acquaint the widow, who is in London, and King George, with the sad news was the cause of this reserve.

Later it was ascertained that the Quest's voyage from Rio Janeiro to South Georgia Island was uneventful. The health of the commander appeared robust. On the night of January 4 Shackleton complained of feeling ill and retired to bed. The medical officer, Captain Hussey, passed the night in Shackleton's cabin.

The end came suddenly despite all the efforts of the attending physician, who realized the seriousness of the attack but was not prepared for such a rapid end.

Subcommander Frank Wild will assume direction of the expedition, and Captain Hussey will accompany the body of Shackleton to England so as to inform the British government and at the same time deliver the explorer's baggage and documents.

Sir Ernest Shackleton was born in 1874. He was a third lieutenant in the British national Antarctic expedition in 1901 and in 1907-09 commanded an expedition which got to within 97 miles of the South Pole. He [illegible] his [illegible] of the pole in [illegible].

The expedition on which he was engaged when he died was to have covered 30,000 miles of uncharted sections of the South Atlantic, the Pacific and the Antarctic seas.

On board the Quest, a little 200-ton ship, Sir Ernest set sail from England last September on what was to have been a two year voyage.

SIR ERNEST SHACKLETON

PRAISES WELFARE WORK.

New York, Jan. 29.—Governor Miller today told members of the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies of New York that their work was to be considered indispensable and of the greatest benefit to the future citizenship of the state. "The state," he said, "has no higher function than promotion of the moral, physical and mental welfare of children. But the functions of the state are limited and it is only through private organizations such as this federation that the work can be carried on properly."

DOUBLE VICTORY FOR NORMAL

Girls Trim Binghamton Central Fair Sex 30 to 8, While Boys Take Church Squad Into Camp, 20 to 19.

Oneonta Normal scored a double victory Saturday night on its home court, the girls' team defeating decisively the reputedly fast squad from Binghamton Central High school 30 to 8, while the varsity boys' team was victorious in a nip-and-tuck battle with the Good Fellowship quintet of St. James' church, 20 to 19. The games were well seen by one of the largest crowds [illegible] attended [illegible] in a [illegible] of [illegible]. The Normal players had the [illegible] backing of all the fans, and they did make the gym ring with their cheers and school songs. The cheering squad led by Miss Dalton was especially effective and put lots of pep into the crowd and players as well. Following the last game, dancing was in order.

Perhaps the greatest interest [illegible] in the girls' game, which brought the Normal girls up against the strongest opponents they have had this season. The Binghamton girls failed to make much of an impression; in fact, they were outclassed in every branch of the game. The locals took the lead from the first and at half time the score stood 18 to 4 in their favor. The second half was virtually a repetition of the first, and the girls were given a rousing cheer when they finished the game far in the lead of their opponents.

Miss Annis starred for O. N. S., securing 21 of her team's 30 points, while Miss Keenan accounted for the remainder. Both girls made some difficult shots and were heartily applauded. The Oneonta guards were also "there" and did effective work in preventing Binghamton's players from scoring. The following is the box score of the game:

Close Battle Between Boys.

The preliminary game between the Normal varsity and St. James' quintet was a hard tussle, particularly in the last half. In the opening session, the Normal boys gained a good lead through some speedy pass work, and at half time the score was 12 to 8 in their favor. In the last half, the church boys began to progress and the last few minutes of play was a nip-and-tuck battle to decide which team should come out victorious. GALLI-CURCI BUILDING HOME.

Buildings of Estate at Fleischmanns Will Command Magnificent View.

On an eminence overlooking the village of Fleischmanns and commanding one of the finest views along the E. & D. valley, Madame Galli-Curci, the noted opera singer, has a large force of men at work under Crosby Kelly of that village, building the foundations for a magnificent residence that will be perhaps the finest in all that section. The main building will be about 175 feet long. A roadway leads to this exclusive site from the Grand Hotel station, losing itself in the dense forest which covers the mountains in that vicinity.

FOREIGN EXCHANGES FEATURED THE WEEK

British Advance and French Recovery Indicate General European Improvement

New York, Jan. 28.—The outstanding feature of the uncertain week in the financial markets which closed yesterday, was, according to prominent banking interests, the strength of leading foreign exchanges. The sharp advance in British bills and concurrent recovery of the French rate were accepted as proof of improvement in the general European situation.

Many of the old-line issues of the railroad and industrial divisions were neglected for new favorites. Gulf States Steel registered further wide fluctuations, but interest in that issue waned perceptibly after publication of the company's annual statement.

Davison chemical was among the few stocks of recent prominence to hold the greater part of its gain. Bethlehem also was an exception to the general trend of industrials, its firmness resulting from the favorable preliminary statement for 1921 and the avowed intention of the corporation to expend $25,000,000 in the current year.

Trading in rails was dull at best and frequently reactionary in tone, although earnings showed improvement. Labor conditions were more hopeful and Washington advices were indicative of a retention of the present freight rate schedules.

Firmer money rates was regarded as a logical sequence to withdrawals of local reserves by interior banks to meet February payments and preparations for crop moving requirements.

United States war flotations were depressed on heavy sellings, prompted by the announcement that congress intends soon to undertake the framing of a soldier bonus bill.

WIN AT COOPERSTOWN

Five Spots Defeat Cooperstown Independents, 23 to 22, Friday Night in Thrilling Game — First Game Lost by Cooperstown on Home Court in Three Years.

The Five Spots, a local basketball team of some repute, accomplished Friday evening what has been done but once before in three years, when they defeated the fast Cooperstown Independents on their own court by a 23 to 22 score. The game was one of thrills throughout, the issue being in doubt until the last half minute, when, with Cooperstown one point to the good, Perry won the game for the Five Spots with a neat field basket.

Cooperstown took the lead at the outset and lead at half time, 14 to 10. In the second half the Five Spots crept up to their rivals by dint of fast floor work, and were but two points behind when the timer's whistle showed two minutes yet to go. Parks, who was substituted for Jester at that juncture, dropped in a foul shot which put the Five Spots but one point in arrears. Perry's sensational shot in the last 30 seconds of play was the sensation of the game and put the game on ice for Oneonta.

Perry starred for the Five Spots, making 16 of their 23 points. A stellar guard game was played by both Patton and Palmer, who held the speedy Cooperstown forwards to one field basket each. Although Cooperstown lost, fine sportsmanship was shown throughout the game. McMoon was the shining light for Cooperstown, while Reed played a fast floor game.

Water Supply Fails.

Much inconvenience attended the failure of the water supply at T. E. McCulley's a few days ago, depriving both the house and barn of water. The trouble seems to be with the pipe which is probably either badly rusted, or leaking. It has been laid nearly 30 years. Mr. McCulley expects in the spring to lay new pipe, but that cannot be attempted now and in the meantime he has to drive his cattle to a spring for drink.

Townsend Succeeds Jones.

Albert Townsend, who succeeded Fred Jones as truck driver for N. P. Nichols, expects to move soon from the home of his father-in-law, R. F. Jones, of Harpersfield, to rooms over the Nichols' store at West Harpersfield.

SECURES CHANGE OF VENUE

Case of D. B. Cornell Farm Agency Against J. O. Conklin of Town of Oneonta Will Be Tried in Otsego County — Cornell Well Known in Oneonta.

Of interest to farmers generally and of particular interest to those who may have listed their farms for sale with D. B. Cornell, lately of Great Barrington, Mass., but now claiming residence in Rensselaer county, the supreme court suit recently brought by Cornell in Rensselater county against J. O. Conklin, who resides in the town of Oneonta on the Otego road just below the Pony farm. Cornell formerly conducted a general store in Oneonta and is well known here. The suit was brought because Conklin sold his farm independently after it had ben listed with the Cornell agency and without paying the withdrawal fee specified in the contract.

Mr. Conklin filed an answer through his attorney, George L. Bockes of this city, denying liability for any commission to Cornel upon the ground that the Cornell contract was an attempted swindle. Attorney Bockes secured an order on Saturday from Justice Staley, sitting at a special term of supreme court at Albany, changing the place of trial from Rensselater county to Otsego county. Cornell, after various vain efforts to compromise the case, failed to oppose the motion for change of venue.

The Cornell agency has had many farms in this and adjoining counties listed for sale and in several instances suits have been brought for collection of commissions and have been allowed to go by default when the defendants showed a disposition to fight the actions.

This newest of "Doug's" productions, this most enchanting of all Dumas' vivid stories, this marvelous visualization of "The Three Musketeers" is truly a picture for everyone—for your family and every family. From it, the young can learn frankness, kindness, valor and generosity. The old can find forgetfulness of trouble and taste its antidote for sorrow. And all of us who believe in Life's drama, with its chapters of gaiety and wit, owe to Dumas a debt of gratitude.

BANKS AND FARM CREDIT

It is no fault of the [illegible] banking system that it is unable to care for farm credit.

Commercial banking consists in gathering together the cash in [illegible] community, keeping it on deposit and loaning out a part of it. Since the cash on deposit is payable on demand, it consequently can only safely be loaned out where it will come back quickly. [illegible] commercial loans have to be restricted in length to [illegible] days and at most not over four or six months.

The farmer needs credit for from one to three years for turnover of his crops or feeding of live stock for market.

Commercial bank money is therefore, it will be seen, not available for farm business. Only a very small part of it belongs to the bank. It belongs to the depositor and he is entitled to have it returned to him at any time. The banker must see that it is available and he cannot safely loan it out on long time.

Some new banking machinery must be devised for the farmer which will get together funds not payable on demand but left in hand for long periods to meet these long-credit requirements.

These two factors adverse to the farmer, while they have affected him more severely for the last two years, were always an obstruction to the steady successful operation of farming even before the war, but compared with other classes the farmer has been during the process of readjustment at a tremendous economic disadvantage in comparison with some of the other classes.

This situation gave rise to the appointment last July of a joint commission on agricultural inquiry which has been investigating the farmer's problem ever since its appointment. This inquiry has been thorough and comprehensive. Its recommendations are in brief:

Legalization of combinations for co-operative marketing.

Use of the Federal Land bank to extend better credit facilities in a commercial way to the farmer.

Warehousing system conducted with strict attention to safety and availability of warehouse receipts as collateral for loans.

Extension of statistical and information services enabling production to be related to consumption. Test methods to be demonstrated, hazards to be reduced and [illegible] more efficient.

Better roads and more adequate terminal facilities.

These are all sound suggestions. If the agricultural bloc would limit its activities to carrying them out in the most efficient and scientific manner it would meet the approval of the whole country. If the agricultural bloc were a business organization it would do just this, but it is a political organization and in its zeal for votes it overlaps [illegible]

SEEK TO CONTROL CREEKS

Investigation to be Made by Sanitary Engineer as to Methods of Controlling Silver Creek and Other Streams in Times of High Water.

In an endeavor to solve the vexing problem of the various creeks flowing through the city, which in times of hard and continued rain and during the spring freshets have caused much property damage and have proved a continual source of annoyance, the Board of Public Works and City Engineer Frank M. Gurney, have arranged to have a survey of the situation made by Mr. Gavitt, representing Clyde Potts, a sanitary engineer of New York city. Mr. Gavitt arrived in the city last evening and will commence his investigations today.

Mr. Gavitt will estimate the amount of water which is carried by the brooks in flood times and then after investigation of the problem will make a report as to ways of controlling the situation. Silver creek has given the most trouble in the past and will receive careful attention, although the investigation will be conducted as to every stream flowing through the city. Mr. Gavitt will be assisted in his research by City Engineer Gurney and by the Board of Public Works.

Clyde Potts, of whose office Mr. Gavitt is an attache, is the man who, with City Engineer Gurney, made the survey and drew the plans for the proposed city sewerage disposal plant.

"NO ACCIDENT" DRIVE

All Divisions Show Remarkably Fine Record — In Shops Colonie Leads Without Single December Accident.

The official report giving the result of the December "No Accident" campaign, conducted on all divisions of the Delaware & Hudson railroad, was given out Saturday by Superintendent of safety J. E. Long. A glance at the report reveals the remarkable fact that during the month of December there were only 52 injuries sustained by the entire personnel of the railroad. During the same month of the preceding year, 103 injuries were reported. A comparison of these records shows a decrease of 51 injuries, or of 49.5 percent.

Every division of the road shows a remarkable decrease in the number of personal injuries, but the most amazing record all was in the Colonie shops. In these shops, which include the car and motive departments as well as the round house, approximately 1,500 men are employed. During the month of December, 1921, not one of these workers, many of whom often are exposed to hazard in the discharge of their duties, was injured. This is the first time in the history of the Colonie shops that a month has passed without an injury.

On the Saratoga division, a 54 per cent decrease was recorded during the drive. In December of 1920 there were 24 injuries on the division. Last December there were but 11, a decrease of 13. The Champlain division had a decrease of 11 per cent, there being nine accidents in December, 1920, and one less last December.

On the Susquehanna division a 20 per cent reduction of injuries was recorded. There were 29 injuries in December 1920, and 23 last December. The Pennsylvania division reported a decrease of 68 per cent, a difference of 22 injuries. In December, 1920, 32 men were injured on this division and only 10 were hurt last December.

Superintendent Long was highly complimented on this splendid showing, and he in turn praised the men, saying it was only through their spirit of cooperation that such a result was attained.

Colonel Loree Pleased.

Before the "No Accident" drive was inaugurated, the plans were approved by Colonel J. T. Loree, general manager of the D. & H. Colonel Loree was intensely interested in the drive and expressed himself as highly pleased with the result.

During the campaign every effort was made constantly to remind the workers of the need of care and caution. The slogan of the drive was, "Eat Your Christmas Dinner at Home with Your Family, Instead of at the Hospital." Posters relating to the subject were displayed conspicuously, and at Colonie noonday rallies were held. At these meetings musical entertainment was furnished and talks were given on the paramount issue of safety. Safety calendars were distributed to members of the safety committee and "safety" was the topic of every conversation. On their part the men responded nobly. Every precaution was exercised to prevent accidents. If a man hit himself on the thumb with a hammer, he was almost ostracised from respectable society of the shop for jeopardizing the standing of the division. The result was worth the effort. A record was established, and a feeling of satisfaction exists among the officials and the workers.

PETER VAN WOERT DEAD

Native and Life Long Resident of Oneonta Township and One Highly Respected—Funeral Tuesday Morning at 11 o'clock.

Peter VanWoert, one of the most respected and best known residents of Oneonta township, passed away at his residence at the Plains Saturday evening at 11:15 o'clock, aged 82 years. Mr. VanWoert had been in failing health for two years or more but not until last September was his trouble diagnosed as Hodgkins' disease. At that time his condition was critical for weeks, but he improved, though not recovering. Of late he has been confined to his room for several weeks and for days it has been evident that the end was approaching. The funeral will be held from the late residence on Tuesday at 11 o'clock, Rev. C. C. Voltz, pastor of the Plains Methodist church and Rev. N. R. Ripley of Milford, long a friend of the deceased will officiate and interment will be in the Plains cemetery.

Mr. VanWoert was a life long resident of the township, having been born on what is perhaps best known as the Shear farm across the Otego creek. He was the youngest child and only son of James S. and Catherine (Noxon) VanWoert and in 1867 was united in marriage with Lucinda Shepherd, also a native and life long resident of the Plains. They resided upon what has come to be known as the Bouy farm the first part of their married life and 16 years ago after it had been sold to Messrs. Millard & Keenan, the home which they had occupied near the junction corner was erected. At that time he was senior member of the firm of VanWoert & Thayer, contractors and builders.

Mr VanWoert united with the Plains Methodist church when young and has ever remained a faithful and devoted member, having for years been a member of its official board and for a long time chairman of the board of trustees. He was also active in the formation of the Plains Cemetery association and was secretary of that organization. When the city of Oneonta was incorporated and the town separated from the city, he was elected a justice of peace of the town, a position he has since held, having been reelected at the last election.

Mr. Van Woert was firm in his adherence to right and good order and was quite active always in enforcing the law in the town, having much to do when the town attempted to clean up the questionable hotels that years ago existed in the town. His life throughout was one of honorable living and good deeds and the community in which he lived loses a good citizen, a kind neighbor and a supporter of all things good and true.

The surviving relatives are the widow, one daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Thayer, two grandchildren, Frank and Orlo Thayer, and one sister, Mrs. Frances VanWoert, of Binghamton. Mrs. John M. Jeffrey of this city is a niece and Wesley Baldwin of Norwich a nephew of the deceased.

His step-mother, Mrs. Nancy Van Woert passed away at his home Dec. 30th last.

IN HER EIGHTY-NINTH YEAR

Mrs. Lodicea Hugaboom Expires Saturday at Home of Daughter.

Another of the older residents of Oneonta whose death The Star chronicles this morning was Mrs Lodicea Hugaboom, whose demise occurred at 3:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Orr, 10 Draper street, of this city. Though she had been in failing physical health for the two past years, she had been able to be about the home and there was no reasons, save her advanced years to anticipate her early departure. She had dined with the family at noon as usual, and had remained in the living rooms until about two o'clock, when she retired to her room. About fifteen minutes later her daughter followed her and found her lying half unconscious over an arm of the chair in which she had been seated. Efforts to revive her were without avail and she died as above stated.

The funeral will be held at her late home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Charles S. Pendleton of the Main Street Baptist church will officiate and the body will be placed in the Plains vault, for later interment in the family plot in the cemetery at Lexington.

Mrs. Hugaboom was born in Lexington Sept. 3, 1833, and was one of five children and the last to survive of the family of Jacob A. and Hannah R. Clawson. She was married in 1854 to Angelo Hugaboom. Her husband died in 1876, but she remained in Lexington until 1914, when she came to Oneonta to reside with her daughter. She was from early life a faithful member of the Lexington Baptist society and until her advanced years prevented was active in church work. She was a devoted mother, a kind friend and neighbor and a respected woman of whose demise the few who remain of the companions of an earlier day will learn with genuine regret.

The surviving members of her family are one son, Henry L. Hugaboom of Lexington, and the daughter above named, also three grandchildren and [illegible] great-grandchildren.

About 12 years ago, however, he came to Oneonta, largely for the purpose of being near several of his children, who were located here. He resided several years here and since that time he had spent the greater part of his time at the home of Mrs. Judd, where he died. He was a veteran of the Civil War in which he served with credit as a member of Company A, 51st Cavalry, Pa. volunteers. He was a member of Clifford, Pa., post G. A. R. and of the Methodist Episcopal church, uniting in early life with the church at Carbondale. He was an exemplary, industrious, highly respected citizen [illegible] friends here and in his old home who will sympathize with the family in the loss of a devoted and beloved father.

LATEST VICINITY NEWS

Happenings of General Interest to Readers in Otsego and Surrounding Counties.

Ice on the ponds in Norwich and vicinity now averages 16 inches in thickness. The work is being hurried forward and nearly all the ice houses in city and vicinity are now filled.

Assemblyman Banks of Chenango county has introduced a bill which in that county only will enlarge the powers of town boards by giving them authority to appoint the town superintendents of highways.

The annual meeting of the Cobleskill chamber of commerce will be held Thursday evening of this week. The meeting and banquet will be at the Kayser silk mill and Frederick W. Kelly and Roy S. Smith, president and secretary of the Albany chamber, will be the principal speakers.

The library membership drive in Cobleskill is progressing and already 100 members have been obtained. Of these 100 are in Howes Cave, and it is believed that the desired quota of 1,200 will be reached. Though but a year in existence the library has done excellent work in village and township.

At a meeting of the members of the Middleburgh Fire department held last week it was voted to purchase and install a whistle fire alarm to be operated by compressed air, taking the place of the present bell alarm.

Assemblyman Campbell of Schenectady has introduced a bill at Albany amending the state highway law so as to provide for a new road connecting the Schoharie and Mohawk valleys. The purpose is said to be to promote shipments in Schoharie and Schenectady counties by barge canal.

The total attendance at the Farm and Home week of the Cobleskill Agricultural school amounted to over 2,700. This was over 600 in excess of a year ago.

The Cobleskill Fish and Game association at its meeting last week elected [illegible] Lette president. The report for the year just ended showed about 500 pheasants liberated and many thousands of fish secured for the stocking of streams.

The Cobleskill village water commissioners are considering the resumption of the water rates in that village prior to 1918. For the past three years consumers have been paying half this rate. The use of meters is also being considered as perhaps the only way to stop the present enormous waste of water.

Bonds to the amount of $4,000 were sold Saturday by the town of Fulton to pay for the building of new bridges in that township.

The Broome county Farm bureau has suffered a considerable drop in membership. Only 362 are said to be now enrolled as against about 600 a year ago. It is however believed that the canvass which it is making will bring the number up to its former figure.

D. Roy Shafer of Cobleskill was last week elected one of the directors of the New York State Holstein Breeders' association.

The local authorities of Dolgeville propose to tax motor busses operating from outside towns and villages in the Dolgeville territory.

There is discussion of reorganization of the Schoharie Valley baseball league for the season of 1922. A year ago the clubs had material disagreement about mid-season and the league was disrupted, Cobleskill and Howes Cave withdrawing. It is now proposed to forget differences and to try again. The trouble last year was over the hired player rule, which none of the teams, it is alleged, fully regarded.

Jared VanWagenen jr. of Lawyersville, it is stated, will engage in the manufacture of ice cream at his farm, beginning about March 1. The cream will all be made from milk supplied by tuberculin tested herds.

It is stated that three bishops — Burt of Buffalo, Smith of India and Henderson of Detroit—will be present at the annual session of the Troy Methodist conference, to be held at Schenectady in April.

The Afton band has reorganized. There are many good musicians in that village and the prospects are good for an excellent organization and a series of band concerts next summer.

ASSEMBLYMAN LONG'S JOB.

Picked as Head of the Important Excise Committee of Assembly.

Lincoln R. Long, Delaware county assemblyman, well known preacher-farmer, who is chairman of the important excise committee of the assembly, is Schoharie county born. The high altitude of Eminence, his boyhood home, counted for the vigor of his mind and body in his more mature years.

It is said that he is as effective in driving home gospel truth as he is in guiding a plow. The "wets" are welcome to any enthusiasm they can work up over his appointment. To the [illegible] whatever it looks "fair and drier."

The Brooklyn Eagle's special political writers says of Mr. Long and the appointment:

"The assembly this year has a Methodist minister as chairman of the excise committee, the committee that handles all booze legislation. This is the guarantee of Speaker Machold, who appointed the assembly committee, that the house is to be bone dry this year.

Lincoln R. Long, tall, lanky, rawboned, lantern jawed, with white hair and moustache, a resident of Delaware county, of which the convivial Lafe Gleason, G. O. P. State committee secretary, is leader, is the man on whom the excise honor has fallen.

"Speaker Machold picked him to head the group because he is dry. He has proved himself by consistent dry votes throughout his assembly career, which covers three years.

"But can he control the committee?" was asked today.

"Can he!" came the enthusiastic reply from one of the house leaders. "Can he? He stands six feet two inches and weighs 190. Just watch him."—(Cobleskill Times.

There were numerous candidates for the positions listed, the majority of whom successfully passed the tests.

The following persons passed the examinations and where placed upon the eligible list for appointment to the positions designated:

Patrolmen, police department: Charles D. Terrell, 23 Miller street; James M. Lewis, West End avenue; Fred L. Crouch, 217 Main street; Frank C. Seaman, 78 Otego street.

Firemen, fire department: William Keen jr., 240 Main street; Nelson Gardner, 338 Main street; Clayton J. Holmes, 36 Maple street.

Janitor, education department: John W. Solloway, 8 Fonda avenue; Francis S. Pond, 519 Main street; Kelvin D. Loucks, Oneonta.

Apprentice librarian, library department: Miss Carol M. Dean, 36 Fairview street.

The men passing the examination for firemen have been in the city service for some time but were required to take the examinations as civil service examinations were not in force in the fire department at the time of their original appointment. Fred L. Crouch, one of the successful candidates for the position of police patrolmen, has also been on the force for some time but his status has been that of a temporary officer. He will undoubtedly now be given a regular appointment.

The vacancies existing in the departments will probably be filled from the eligible list created by the examinations at meetings of the various commissions to be held in the near future.

Schoharie people generally look upon the proposal of Assemblyman Lentinger of New York to form a separate state to be called "The State of New York" as a huge joke. The proposition, is to include among other counties Greene and Schoharie, perhaps the latter on its afore-time record as being a rock-ribbed Democratic stronghold.

When Death Cancels Debt

You will have noticed in many of the newspapers the advertisements of dealers in bonds offering them for sale to the public on the installment plan. Some of them are excellent investments and some are not.

Will any of these dealers cancel the unpaid installments if you die and hand over the bonds? They will not.

Will they cancel the unpaid installments and pay you an income for life in addition if you suffer permanent disability? They will not.

Will they guarantee that the value of the bonds will increase in value; will they even guarantee that they will not depreciate? They would laugh at the suggestion and think you simple. But Life Insurance will.

IOWA TOWN WITHOUT A CHURCH 65 YEARS

"Little Berlin" of World War Days Now Has a Sunday School

Walcott, Ia., Jan. 27.—Walcott is looking up in a religious way. This village, whose chief executive, Mayor Strohbien, no less than three months ago boasted that it had never had a church within the limits of the community in the last 65 years now has a Sunday school.

According to Dr. LeRoy Coffman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Davenport, Ia., the Sunday school was established as a result of the influence of a little girl who had attended vacation Bible class at his church. Dr. Coffman states:

"The mayor was opposed to its existence but the written permission of all other members of the school board of this city of Walcott in response to general sentiment in it favor, obtained the school building for the Sunday school and it is now an established fact."

Dr. A. Frank Houser, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of Davenport recently made an inspection of this village and reports that: "Some weeks ago a Sunday school was started in Walcott, perhaps the first in all the history of the town, now in its 65th year. There was no decided objection to the Sunday school being started by the young people and children of the village but in case a church was started the mayor threatened to close it.

"We looked into the educational conditions and found that the regular school only this year was advancing to an intermediate grade preparatory to a high school course, which some of the students take in Davenport, twelve miles away. The town is sixty-five years old and has never sent a person to college from its immediate village precincts. Several have taken academic and normal courses at Cedar and Iowa Falls, but no one entered college. There have been three from the country or farm houses who attended an Agricultural college, but I could learn only of one that took the full course."

Dr. Houser also reported that almost the entire community that located here are known to have immigrated to this country from Holstein and the Danish Rhenish border about 1860. This village during the World War was known as "Little Berlin."

KEEN INTEREST IN PRICE CUT

WHOLE COUNTRY ANXIOUS TO LEARN AMOUNT OF DODGE BROTHERS REDUCTION.

Dealer Here Tells of Elaborate Preparations for Big Business; News Out February 1.

What is the purchase price?

This slight but important alteration seems to have been made in the famous slogan special broadcast by Dodge Brothers a few months ago. The change was brought about by the most persistent epidemic of public curiosity since the time when Dodge Brothers first announced that they were about to market a car and then refused to tell what kind of a car it was going to be. That was eight years ago.

Dodge Brothers latest bid for a complete and exclusive monopoly on public attention, so far as it pertains to the automobile industry, came on January 16, when they announced that they were about to make a substantial reduction in the price of their cars and then declined to tell what the prices would be.

The mere fact that they will not until February 1 makes everyone want to know immediately.

Weaver-Blair Company, Inc., the Dodge Brothers dealer here, was commenting on the subject today, somewhat on the order of the foregoing [illegible], when a voice on the telephone inquired, "if there wasn't any chance to get a little advance information on those prices." There were good reasons, the voice said, why the "tip" should be given out in this particular case, "and it would be sure to turn out to your advantage." But the dealer expressed his regrets and the voice reluctantly withdrew.

"That is the way it has been going ever since January 11," the dealer said. "I never appreciated what an intense interest there was in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars until this occurred. That fellow who just called probably wanted the information for some business reason or maybe for sheer curiosity. Perhaps he had a bet up with someone. Anyhow, he refused to give his name. The great majority of those who call, however, leave their names and telephone numbers and on February 1 we are going to have a special staff busy calling all these people and giving them the real facts.

"We prefer this method of making the new prices known because it avoids the possible confusion resulting from publication of 'F. O. B. Detroit' prices. There is no disposition on our part to make a mystery of it, once the price becomes known to us. But we have learned that local people are interested in local prices and that is what we are going to give them as soon as we can figure the amounts after we receive the information from the factory. In due time, of course, these local prices will be published, but in order to learn the amounts on the day of the announcement it will be necessary for interested parties to call at our salesrooms or leave their telephone numbers, so that we may call them.

"It is not difficult to see that we are going to have a big year, as a great percentage of these people who want to know about the price are in the market for a car. It became known at our annual meeting in New York that Dodge Brothers themselves anticipated an exceptional year and made preparations for it. They exhibited a motion picture in which some of these preparations were revealed. They have been working steadily all winter, you know, and will be fully prepared when the big rush comes—and the rush is only a few days distant now. This means that Dodge Brothers will soon be shipping more cars per day than ever before in their history.

"It has taken millions of dollars to finance this tremendous program of increased production. But everyone will soon see that it was an excellent investment."

While it was generally expected in the industry that Dodge Brothers would make a substantial cut, the unusual form of the announcement proved to be a veritable bombshell. At first glance it appeared to be a somewhat mysterious procedure but as the full significance of the announcement dawned on other manufacturers it was conceded that it was an exceptionally strategic move. advt. 'SOME DAY' IN COURT

COURT APPROVES INCORPORATION OF MEREDITH COMMUNITY CLUB

Proceedings Against Reynolds Hotel in Liquor Search Dropped—Several Divorce Cases Heard and Various Other Actions Before Court.

"Some busy day" accurately describes the activities at the regular motion term of the supreme court at chambers here Saturday, presided over by Justice Kellogg. There were many attorneys in attendance and numerous and varied were the cases before the court.

Reynolds Case Dismissed.

Of special interest locally was the hearing the matter of the search warrant against 61 Broad street, the building now known as Reynolds hotel. Some time since the warrant was served, but the search failed to disclose any intoxicating liquors on the premises. On the return of the proceedings the papers were filed and there being no appearance in behalf of the warrant on motion of George L. Bockes, attorney for the defendant Reynolds, an order dismissing the proceeding was granted. This ends the proceedings in the case. The other proceeding against Reynolds will, it is expected, come up for trial in city court this week.

Punished for Contempt.

In the matter of C. C. Colburn & Son, judgment creditors, against Charles H. Bolenomin on the return of an order to show cause why the judgment debtor should not be punished for contempt for failure to appear for examination before referee. The judgment debtor was fined $35, the amount of the judgment and the balance up $25 in costs, or 35 days in the Otsego county jail. The amount of the fine to be paid within 20 days after the service of the order granted. Seybolt & Seybolt appeared for the judgment creditors.

Another Liquor Case.

Motion to dismiss the proceeding for lack of jurisdiction was made by Attorneys Bockes and Heybolt as attorneys for Alex Ushtrant, Mike Concovitch and Paul Sarko in the matter of the application of Fred S. Williams, sheriff of Otsego county for a warrant to search and seize intoxicating liquors kept on premises on the road known as Flax Island creek in the town of Otego. District Attorney Adrian Pierson opposed the motion which was denied.

Cost of Defending Smith.

On the application for allowance and expenses allowed for David F. Lee of Norwich, as attorney for Herbert W. Smith, recently convicted on the second trial for the murder of Louis Johnson at Nineveh. On certificate and affidavit filed Lee was granted $500 and $61.52 for expenses.

Appeal Withdrawn.

In the case of Eugene Deforest against Mary C. Baker, an action originally brought to require the delivery of a deed to a certain farm, a stipulation was filed by the parties and an order was granted vacating an undertaking on appeal and the sureties were discharged. Sewell & France were the attorneys for the plaintiff and O'Connor and O'Connor for the defendant.

Meredith Community Club.

Justice Kellogg approved the papers in the application of the Meredith Community club in proceedings for incorporation. The objects of the organization are to study and promote health, religion, education, recreation and economics and to improve and promote the general welfare, appearance and condition in the town of Meredith. The directors until the first annual meeting is held are to be Luther P. Frisbee, F. Wayland Ayer, Martha Ayer, John H. Meredith, Claire J. Stewart, Julia C. Stewart and Anna G. Munson. The incorporators are Luther P. Frisbee, John H. Meredith, Claire J. Stewart, Julia C. Stewart and Anna G. Munson. Hamilton J. Hewitt of Delhi appeared for the petitioners.

Divorces Granted.

Evidence was taken and decrees granted in the following divorce proceedings:

Clara M. Pickard of Oneonta against Ernest E. Pickard, with George Wohlleben as attorney for the plaintiff.

Ione Johnson of Oneonta against Ernest Hery Johnson. Hon. Charles C. Flaesch of Unadilla was attorney for the plaintiff.

Jessie E. Hopkins against Hugh C. Hopkins. Clemence G. Tennent for plaintiff and Edson A. Hayward for defendant.

Emma Hunter against Howard Harter, James Gilchrist of Ilion attorney for plaintiff.

In the action brought by Mary Louise Deye against Otis G. Deye, the plaintiff was given one week in which to file additional affidavits and the defendant two weeks for replying affidavits. Dees & Craft of Roxbury appeared for the plaintiff and Frank W. Brooks of Kingston for defendant.

On motion for alimony and counsel fees pendente lite, in an action for separation brought by Beatrice Bonck against Judson Bonck, the court granted counsel fees of $50 and $4 per week alimony, the latter to cease at the termination of the next trial term in Delaware county unless for good cause shown by either party it is necessary to postpone the trial. A. L. O'Connor of Hobart for the plaintiff and George M. Palmer of Cobleskill for the defendant.

Must Stop Cutting Timber.

On application of Elroy E. Webb, Arthur VanDusen and Olaf Stenstand were enjoined and restrained from committing waste or cutting timber, pending the proceeding for foreclosure. C. W. Hathaway was the attorney for the plaintiff.

Seek New Trial.

In the case of Angelo [illegible] against Nasrali Cipollina, A. L. O'Connor of Hobart for defendant made a motion for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence and upon the ground that the verdict is contrary to and against the weight of evidence.

The court directed that the plaintiff may file a stipulation to reduce the verdict of the jury to $411.25 and in case the defendant files a stipulation within ten days agreeing to such reduction an order may be entered to that effect. Otherwise the motion for a new trial is denied. F. W. Youmans of Delhi appeared for the plaintiff opposed.

GETMAN HOLDS INQUEST

Examines Witnesses at Cooperstown Saturday in Investigation of Death of Byron Naylor, Struck by Trolley Near Index Friday.

An inquest into the circumstances of the death of Byron Naylor of Gilbertsville, who was instantly killed when he was struck by a trolley near Index Friday afternoon, was held by Coroner H. W. Getman of this city Saturday morning in the offices of District Attorney Adrian A. Pierson. Coroner Getman has not yet announced his findings.

There were no eye witnesses to the tragedy, but all those who were in the vicinity or who were in any way connected with the accident were examined by Dr. Getman. It developed from the testimony that Naylor had apparently turned out to pass another car and had become stuck in a deep drift. He had evidently shoveled the snow from in front of the car and was adjusting his tire chains when he was struck. The track is but 2½ feet from the road at that point. This explains why Naylor, who was adjusting the chain on the front tire nearest the track, was struck.

A trolley employe named Ward was on the milk car, which was being pushed by the trolley, but as he was standing on the step on the right hand side of the car where he could see the motorman, he was unable to see Naylor. A curve at the point where the accident occurred farther obstructed Ward's vision.

Coroner Getman will announce his findings in the case later in the week.

A LUCKY NORWICH LAD

While Watching Basketball Game, Falls Backward Through Window and Drops Into Snowbank 30 Feet Below, But Is Only Slightly Injured.

(Special to The Star.)

Norwich, Jan. 29. — While watching the girls of Walton and Norwich High schools battle for basketball honors preliminary to the Johnson City-Norwich game Saturday night on the third floor of the City hall, Leo Hynes, aged 12, fell backward through a window to the ground, a distance of more than 30 feet. In his descent he caught in the Western Union wire that regulates an electric clock in the hall, breaking his fall, and landed in a snowbank. Striking on the clock wire prevented him falling on an iron guard rail.

Examination by Dr. T. C. Moulec last night and a more thorough one today failed to reveal any further injuries than severe bruises and a lame back. Hynes is of light weight and he wore a heavy overcoat and clothing. When the accident occurred Leo was the middle one of three boys of about his age standing on the window sill. They leaned too heavily against a wooden guard rail nailed across the window sash, and it gave way. One of the other boys, Wendell Phillips, was saved from falling only by a spectator, who caught his foot just as he was going over the sill. The hall was packed, but not half a dozen persons in the crowd knew that an accident had occurred. Hynes is the son of Mail Carrier and Mrs. Frank W. Hynes of East Park place.

Both Norwich teams were victorious, the boys defeating Johnson City, 26 to 15, while the girls trimmed the Walton quintet, 13 to 11.
